CARE AND MAINTENANCE

Varieties of materials are used in construction of “Outdoor” furniture ranges. All will require some form of maintenance to extend the life of finishes and general appearance. Please see below instruction unique to your chosen product.

Onyx Dining Range Construction;

Poly + sand + stone powder mixed and poured into a matrix or moulding frame, this produces a panel of required size of 5mm thickness. Then a layer of fiberglass is applied to back of panel to add strength and rigidity and during the assembly process a further support system is added a steel frame to avoid flex. Once this is added another panel is added to seal all panels into a box. Finishing is apply to surface sanding and a final coat of clear paint is sprayed on.

Care Instruction;

Please keep dust free, avoid leaving vegetation on surface as leaves and sap can leave stains that can not be removed. Avoid leaving spills on surface as orange juice & alcohol are acidic and will damage surface coating if left unattended for any length of time.

Regular cleaning please use a soft bristle dust pan brush or a soft clean cloth, using a hose is permissible but not at high pressure, please pat dry as the trace minerals in water may leave a mark once water has evaporated (Do Not Use Bore Water).

Included in packaging is a small can of wax, note this is for cleaning of grime build up. Using a soft clean cloth you apply the wax in a circular motion to affected area, with this action the wax then picks up the grime and retains the grime within its self, then with a soft clean cloth remove the wax taking the grime with it. Repeat if necessary. Note may not clean up all especially any dye based grime and or chemicals.

Definition of Regular Cleaning;

Numerous factors can influence the time frame for cleaning, depending area you live in, the weather, positioning of the product (fully protected, partial protection, fully exposed to the elements). You will need to monitor yourself to establish the cleaning requirement for your unique situation.

Areas with high salt content and or pollution will require the most frequent cleaning. To reduce some maintenance you should buy and use an outdoor cover to protect your furniture from the elements when not in use.
